

SAF-Holland Announces Acquisition of the Gunite Automatic Slack Adjusters

Muskegon, Michigan, April 1, 2025 – SAF-HOLLAND Group, one of the world’s leading suppliers of trailer and truck components, including Haldex Brake System Products, is pleased to announce the acquisition of the Gunite Slack Adjuster Product Line from Accuride Corporation in Livonia, Mich.

The acquisition of the Gunite slack adjuster product line aligns with the SAF-Holland global strategy to reinforce its position in the heavy-duty brake product industry by expanding its brake product portfolio and strengthening its market presence.

Gunite automatic slack adjusters are recognized for their exceptional performance, reliability, and safety. Engineered to enhance braking efficiency, they help reduce operating costs and minimize downtime, delivering greater value to customers. The well-respected Gunite slack adjuster design will now be manufactured and serviced under the trusted brand, Haldex, the market leader in Automatic Brake Adjusters, with all its technologically advanced processes. We will also change the product designation to Gunite Automatic Brake Adjusters for continuity between products.

“We are thrilled to extend this offer for the Gunite automatic brake adjuster product line,” said Kent Jones, President of SAF-Holland – Americas. “The expertise that the Gunite automatic brake adjuster product line brings will be a valuable addition to our capabilities, supporting our vision to expand our product portfolio and better serve our customers.”

SAF-Holland recommends that customers reach out to their SAF-HOLLAND/Haldex sales representative with any questions regarding the upcoming transition.
